

Inward Illumination™

75-Hour Meditation Teacher Training

October 2024 - December 2024

The Inward Illumination™ Meditation Teacher Training is a transformative journey designed to deepen practitioners' personal meditation practice while equipping them with the skills to guide others on their own paths of peace, clarity, and freedom. The program emphasizes self-reflection, extensive reading, and profound self-inquiry, creating a rich environment for personal growth and spiritual development. Participants will explore various meditation techniques, delve into ancient wisdom texts, and engage in contemplative exercises that challenge their understanding of themselves and the world around them.

Throughout this training, framed by an in-depth study of the Kosha system, aspiring teachers will learn to cultivate presence, compassion, and emotional intelligence—essential qualities for holding space and supporting a community of meditators. The curriculum balances theoretical knowledge with practical experience, allowing participants to integrate their learnings into daily life and teaching scenarios. By the end of the program, graduates will not only have deepened their own practice but will also have developed the confidence and skills necessary to share the transformative power of meditation with others, fostering a sense of connection and well-being in their communities.

By investing in the training, participants will:

- Deepen your understanding of meditation through both informational content and experiential practice.
- Receive mentoring, including personal “office hours”, and live and recorded group conversations.

- Establish the tools, experience, and guidance to further your own meditation practice.
- Practice leading meditations and receive constructive feedback
- Develop the confidence, vocabulary, and presence to successfully lead others in meditation

In addition to bi-weekly training sessions, students are also required to commit to a daily meditation practice, complete homework assignments, meet asynchronously with fellow trainees, and attend meditation classes at Sankofa Yoga; there are no additional fees.

Upon completion of the coursework and evaluation, participants will receive a certification of completion. For those that are Yoga teachers this will then enable you to register with Yoga Alliance for Continuing Education Credits (YACEP).

WHO IS THIS TRAINING FOR?

Our meditation teacher training is designed for individuals who have a strong interest in meditation and mindfulness practices, and are interested in sharing these techniques with others. The training is open to anyone who has an ongoing personal meditation practice of at least one year, with at least a commitment of three to four meditation practices a week. With a consistent meditation practice, this training welcomes those who wish to become certified meditation teachers, as well as for those who simply wish to deepen their own personal practice. Our program is perfect for yoga teachers, healthcare professionals, therapists, or anyone who is interested in incorporating meditation and mindfulness practices into their work or personal life.

Our meditation teacher training program is not an immersion or workshop; rather, a training course for those with the intention to complete all requirements for certification.
